Chair, Economic Development, Environmental & Land Use, and Municipal Law & Finance Practice Groups

Andy has more than 25 years experience in general environmental counseling and regulatory compliance, natural resource permitting, and land use permitting. He has served for more than 25 years as general counsel and has provided environmental law services on special projects to Maine municipalities.

He has an active zoning and land use permitting practice serving clients in coastal and central Maine. He has permitted shopping malls, hotels, other commercial facilities, hospital facilities, and residential and commercial subdivisions before local Planning Boards and before the Maine Department and Board of Environmental Protection.

Andy is the Chair of the Environmental & Land Use and Municipal Law & Finance practice groups at Eaton Peabody. His practice concentrates on environmental compliance counseling, and representing clients in proceedings under state and federal environmental laws before the Maine Department of Environmental Protection and the United States Environmental Protection Agency. He has extensive experience in hazardous substance and waste laws, and is the author of the Maine law text for the treatise on Brownfields Redevelopment published by Matthew Bender.

In addition, Andy maintains an extensive utilities practice, which includes serving as general counsel to a number of public water utility districts.
